THE MERCHANTS OF FANEUIL HALL MARKETPLACE SET THE TONE FOR BOSTON FASHION

Have you ever dreamed that you would find more than 125 stores featuring a variety of quality clothing, jewelry, bags, and other accessories -- all under one roof? And in an area that also houses great restaurants where you can revive, relax and be entertained after a tough day of shopping?

Well, you can find all this at Faneuil Hall Marketplace. The merchants of the Marketplace offer the best and the brightest fashion looks in clothing and accessories -- from formalwear to sportswear, trendy to traditional -- as well an incredible array of gifts and home furnishings.

Faneuil Hall Marketplace's approach to fashion is an eclectic one. The Marketplace strives to attain a balanced mix of unique shops, from upscale to funky, to maintain the finest in Boston merchandise and remain true to the Marketplace's heritage (the first shopkeepers moved into Faneuil Hall Marketplace more than 246 years ago).

For sophisticated Thai silks, visit "Siam Malee" in the South Market building. Men can outfit themselves in comfortable activewear from "ACA Joe" as well as find designer sportswear from "Alan Lawrence," who updates the traditional look with custom-made suits and shirts, and tailors on the premises.

"Dupre" features funky junior sportswear, as well as a complete, updated assortment of bags and sunglasses. "The Narraganset," "The Lodge" and "Pappagallo" offer sporty and casual clothes and footwear, all with a flair for the traditional and contemporary.

"Folklorica" has an incredible collection of antique and ethnic designer jewelry, as well as one of the best collections of silver and turquoise jewelry in Boston. Other accessories with an exotic flair can be found at "AfricArt," which carries unique African skin goods, jewelry, belts, bags and other accessories.

"Cuoio" at Faneuil Hall Marketplace features costume jewelry and accessories, and is a must for imported Italian shoes and boots. The "Body Lab" and "Faux & Funky" are famous for their selection of jewelry and hair accessories. And no man or woman's wardrobe is complete without some lingerie or nightwear from "Dalliance" or "Victoria's Secret," whose selection ranges from demure to provocative.
